HackCal

Debashish Mishra, Pulak Kumar Das, Ayush Singh, Rahul Kumar

HackCal is a calendar which aids users who have trouble keeping track of the numerous hackathons they registered for. The application helps the user to track the dates of the hackathon and also provides other details about the hackathons.

The user can provide the application with their email address and get personal notifications about any upcomming hackathons via email. The user can choose what coding competitions he wants to get notified about by registering on the website.

Flow Chart